

Profile

Our Ability to Go from "0" to "1"

Philosophy

Casio's corporate creed is "Creativity and Contribution," expressing the Company's commitment to contributing to society through innovative, useful products it is uniquely positioned to deliver.

Products with innovative functions assist people in their daily lives and keep society moving forward. They also bring great delight to many people and help to revitalize culture. When even a single new product is widely adopted, whole new markets develop, and this in turn fosters growth in related industries.

This is the story of Casio's wide-ranging contributions to society, based on its innovative product and service portfolio.

Corporate creed – "Creativity and Contribution"

1957

- Four Kashio brothers start commercial production of the world's first all-electric compact calculator, the 14-A.
- Casio Computer Co., Ltd. founded.

1965

001 transistor-based electronic desktop calculator released.

1972

- Casio stock transferred to the first section of the Tokyo Stock Exchange.
- Casio Mini, the world's first personal electronic calculator, released.

1974

Casiotron digital watch released.

1980

Casiotone electronic keyboards released.

1983

First G-SHOCK shock-resistant watch released.

1995

QV-10, a digital camera with an LCD monitor, released.

2002

EXILIM, then the world's thinnest, wearable card-sized digital camera, released.

2010

Mercury-free high-brightness projectors released.

Forward-Looking Statements

Earnings estimates and expectations that are not historical fact included in this report are forward-looking statements. Such forward-looking statements reflect the judgment of management based on information available as of the time of writing, and various factors could cause actual results to differ materially.